Re: David Ferguson
CI#: 00-564734 SI

Dear Mr. Atkins:

I had the opportunity of examining David Ferguson, a 54 year-old man on December 2, 2003. Mr. Ferguson was examined for an injury filed under Claim # 00-564734 SI which occurred on September 7, 2000. At that time, while working as a car hauler, he states he was standing on the tractor bed when the safety cable broke. He states he fell off of the tractor trailer from a height of approximately 10 – 12 feet. He did land on his back on the side rails and struck the truck several different times on the way down. He landed with his feet on the ground then twisted, falling to the ground. He was taken initially to Kettering Hospital where he was released from the emergency room.

His initial treatment was with Dr. McTighe. He indicates that he had therapy as well as three steroid injections. He indicates that he returned to work on a light-duty basis after approximately 6 – 12 months. He worked intermittently until greater than one year ago. While working on light-duty, he indicates that he was taking anti-inflammatory medication, pain medication, as well as having intermittent physical therapy.

He was treated by Dr. John Roberts, who ordered several injections at Dearborn County Hospital. Recently, he has been under the care of Dr. Mitchell Simons, who has given him three epidurals trigger point injections with very little relief. Currently, Dr. Simons is treating him with the following: Actiq 2X/day, Kadian 60 mg every day, Celebrex 3X/day, Tofanil at night, Soma at bedtime, and an unknown anti-depressant.

His past surgeries have been limited to bilateral tennis elbow releases approximately seven years ago. He denies having any problems at this time associated with that condition.

He denies any previous back problems. He did have low back trauma when a chain broke and he fell into the trailer. He did see a doctor for this, but had no lasting discomfort.

In the past, he has had MRI studies involving his lumbosacral spine. The last study was done 3 - 4 months ago at Norwood Open MRI. He also has had electromyographic exams.

He describes his current pain as being primarily left sided in nature involving the low back. The pain is described as a constant, sharp pain which is aggravated by sitting for one half hour. In addition, when he wakes up he has a great deal of pain and stiffness involving his low back. Bending/stooping activities makes the pain worse. It is decreased by lying on the floor. His pain medication also helps his discomfort.

He does complain of intermittent left leg pain. The pain starts in his buttocks and radiates into the lateral aspect of the thigh, calf, and foot areas. He indicates this pain is brought on by sitting or standing in one spot for approximately 30 minutes. Walking has no effect. His leg pain also occurs when his back pain is more severe.

His initial pain was in the same area. In addition, he did have numbness involving his left fourth, fifth toes.

His physical examination revealed his height to be 5 ft. 9 in., weight 190 lb. His gait for distances observed in the office was unremarkable. Transitional activities were done effortlessly. Examination of the spine revealed normal alignment. Percussion and palpation revealed mild discomfort in the lower lumbar area. No specific spasm or trigger points were noted. Motion involving the lumbosacral spine was limited with flexion being limited to 30° with pain, extension 10° with pain, right/left lateral bending 10° with pain. Palpation informal testing of the sacroiliac joint caused no discomfort. Palpation of the sciatic notches caused no pain. Straight leg raising/reverse straight leg raising was unremarkable. Range of motion of the hip joints was full and Patrick's test was normal. Neurological exam of the lower extremities revealed reflexes to be symmetric, sensation was intact except for decrease involving the left lateral calf and foot, manual muscle testing revealed normal strength and was reliable. Muscle tone was normal. Thigh, calf circumferential measurements were symmetric. No fasciculations were noted. Skin temperature was symmetric. Peripheral pulses were present and symmetric.

Medical records reviewed at this time, included the following:

1. The cover letter dated November 26, 2003.
2. Physical therapy initial evaluation dated February 7, 2001. Subsequent notes up to March 15, 2001 were reviewed. Discharge summary dictated by Mr. Lees dated March 15, 2001 was reviewed.
3. Records from Dr. McTighe from September 15, 2000. His follow up notes through July 10, 2001 were reviewed.
4. MRI of the lumbar spine dated December 14, 2000 interpreted by Dr. Craven showed mild posterior apophyseal joint arthropathy, small bulging disc at L5-S1.
5. Emergency room records from Kettering Memorial Hospital dated September 7, 2000. Treatment of her for a laceration of the left thumb.
6. X-ray report dated September 7, 2000 of the lumbar spine interpreted as being normal by Dr. Adam from Kettering Medical Center.
7. Medical bills summary incurred by David Ferguson.
8. CT scan of the lumbar spine performed at Dearborn County Hospital dated August 13, 2001 showed minor central disc bulge at L4-L5 and a shallow central focal disc protrusion at L5-S1. Minor facet joint hypertrophy was noted at the L5-S1 level.
9. Dr. Robert Swartzel, Jr. electromyographic exam dated August 7, 2001 which was interpreted as showing an old or chronic left L-5 radiculopathy.
10. Dr. Whitsett's examination dated June 9, 1995.
11. Office notes of Dr. Simons from November 29, 2001, December 20, 2001, and January 17, 2002.
12. MRI of the thoracic spine dated June 25, 2001 interpreted by Dr. Weber which was a normal study.
13. Dr. Roberts' consultation note dated January 2, 2001. His follow up notes of July 20, August 30, November 5, 2001 were reviewed.
14. Dr. Simons' letter to Dr. Roberts dated November 29, 2001.
15. Dr. Roberts' letter to Dr. Simons dated November 11, 2001.
16. Various forms pertaining to his job.
17. Dr. John Roberts' deposition dated February 4, 2003.
18. Treatment forms of Dr. Simons.
19. Dr. Sheridan's report sent to Mr. Atkins dated February 24, 2003. His follow up letter of March 7, 2003. Follow up letter of September 3, 2003.
20. Dr. Bruce Siegel's letter to Mr. Honerlaw dated May 10, 1999.
21. MRI report interpreted by Dr. Meyer dated July 10, 2003 which is of poor quality. It is interpreted showing some disc degeneration facet arthritis with a small left paracentral disc protrusion at the L5-S1 level.
22. Dr. Simons' letter dated March 24, 2003 to Mr. Honerlaw.

23. Dr. Whitsett's examination dated March 16, 1999 from the injury of May 7, 1997.
24. Emergency room treatment notes from Kettering Medical Center pertaining to the low back injury dated September 7, 2000. It is noted that the pain drawing showed the pain to be in the low back, although there was concern about weakness involving the left leg.
25. Dr. Jasper's emergency room note of May 7, 1997 at Kettering Memorial Hospital.
26. Emergency room record note from Kettering Memorial Hospital pertaining to chest pain dated December 15, 1987.

Based on my examination and review of the medical records, I believe I can answer the questions posed in the cover letter of November 26, 2003. At the current time, Mr. Ferguson's back pain is related to aging changes involving his lumbosacral spine. I believe he still has some sensory evidence on a subjective basis for a past probable left L5 radiculopathy. My opinion is based on his diagnostic studies performed in the past, as well as his current history and physical examination.

In reviewing the medical records, it is my medical opinion within a reasonable degree of medical certainty that Mr. Ferguson did not aggravate a preexisting facet arthropathy. I believe exacerbation occurred but there is no evidence to indicate that aggravation of his facet arthropathy, which is related to a normal aging process, occurred. My opinion is based on the diagnostic reports reviewed.

There is no evidence in reviewing the medical records by the history obtained by Mr. Ferguson that his past back injuries which occurred approximately six years ago are currently causing his leg symptomatology. It is noted that his chronic history of back pain which dates back six years ago in his documented medical records is his current degree of back discomfort at this time. I believe this is a chronic condition. The diagnostic studies would indicate that there has been no increase in these aging changes which one can relate to a specific event.

Mr. Ferguson's injury which is recognized under Claim #00-564734 SI has reached maximum medical improvement. There is no evidence on anatomical studies performed that his condition would improve with any type of conservative or surgical treatment. His current subjective complaints of numbness and decreased sensation in the left leg could reflex past trauma to the left L5 nerve root which would be unaffected by any modalities or procedures at this time.

If one uses the AMA Guidelines, 5th Edition and takes into effect the symptomatology from the injury which occurred on September 7, 2000, Mr. Ferguson would have a DRE lumbar category II degree of impairment or a 5% impairment to the body as a whole.

If there are any questions in regards to this evaluation, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Ron M. Koppenhoefer, M.D.
